

Privacy Policy

Here at organicARTS, we take your privacy seriously. We're committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. This Policy explains when and why we collect personal information about people, how we use it, the conditions under which we may disclose it to others and how we keep it secure.

We may change this Policy from time to time so please check this page occasionally to ensure that you're happy with any changes.

Any questions regarding this Policy and our privacy practices should be sent by email to info@organicarts.org.uk

How do we collect information from you?

We obtain information about you when you sign up to receive our newsletter, on paper, through facebook, on e-mail or through our website.

What type of information is collected from you?

The personal information we ask you will include:

- Your name
- Email Address

We will never sell your data and promise to keep it safe and secure.

How is your information used?

We may use your information to:

- notify you of changes to our services;
- process a donation that you have made;
- seek your views or comments on the services we provide;
- send you communications which you have requested and that may be of interest

Your rights

We regularly review our retention periods for personal information. We are legally required to hold some types of information to fulfil our statutory obligations (for example the collection of Gift Aid). We will hold your personal information on our systems for as long as is necessary for the relevant activity, or as long as is set out in any relevant contract you hold with us.

Your choices

You have a choice about whether or not you wish to receive information from us. We will not contact you for marketing purposes by email, phone or text message or post unless you have given your prior consent. You can change your marketing preferences at any time by contacting us by email: info@organicarts.org.uk or telephone on 01392 811080.

How you can access and update your information

The accuracy of your information is important to us. If you change email address, or any of the other information we hold is inaccurate or out of date, please email us at: info@organicarts.org.uk or telephone on 01392 811080.

You have the right to ask for a copy of the information organicARTS hold about you. When you give us personal information, we take steps to ensure that it's treated securely.

Non-sensitive details (your email address etc.) are transmitted normally over the Internet, and this can never be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, while we strive to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of any information you transmit to us, and you do so at your own risk. Once we receive your information, we make our best effort to ensure its security on our systems.

Use of 'cookies' on our website

Like many other websites, the organicARTS website uses cookies. 'Cookies' are small pieces of information sent by an organisation to your computer and stored on your hard drive to allow that website to recognise you when you visit. They collect statistical data about your browsing actions and patterns and do not identify you as an individual. For example, we use cookies to store your country preference. This helps us to improve our website and deliver a better more personalised service. It is possible to switch off cookies by setting your browser preferences. Turning cookies off may result in a loss of functionality when using our website.

Review of this Policy

We keep this Policy under regular review. This Policy was last updated in May 2018.
